DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The disclosure, as originally filed, failed to disclose "the supply of said component is resumed from said main component supply device irrespective of said components being left in said secondary component supply device".

Note: no patentable weight is given to the limitation "the supply of said component is resumed from said main component supply device irrespective of said components being left in said secondary component supply device".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3726

4. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mimura et al (US 6,779,259).

Mimura discloses in claims 1-10, flow charts and Figs. 2A-2B the claimed invention of detecting when the components are empty, switching to another supply means and replenishing the depleted supply means while the mounting head mount electronic components using another supply means. It is inherent that means as noted in claims are provided in the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mimura et al (US 6,779,259) in view of Young (US 4,631,812).

Mimura fails to disclose a fixed reference guide rail and a movable guide rail.

Young discloses a fixed reference guide rail (68) and a movable guide rail (80).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Mimura by providing a fixed reference guide rail and a movable guide rail, as taught by Young, for the purpose of conveying a plurality of different size width PCBs.

7. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mimura et al (US 6,779,259) in view of Kitamura et al (US 5,740,604).

Mimura teaches the invention as described with respect to claims 2-3 above, except for a component rack arranged close to one of the supply devices.

Kitamura discloses a component rack (17) arranged close to one of the supply devices.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Mimura by providing a component rack arranged close to one of the supply devices, as taught by Kitamura, for the purpose of increasing mounting electronic components on PCB without stopping.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Interviews After Final

9. Applicant note that an interview after a final rejection must be submitted briefly in writing the intended purpose and content of the interview (the agenda of the interview must be in writing). Upon review of the agenda, the Examiner may grant the interview if the examiner is convinced that disposal or clarification for appeal may be accomplished with only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations will be denied. See MPEP 714.13 and 713.09.

Conclusion

10. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity (optional). Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
